Fullwood, Francis, d. 1693.
The churches and ministery of England, true churches and true ministery, cleared and proved in a sermon preach'd the 4th of May at Wiviliscombe before a numerous congregation assembled together to hear the opposition, which had been long threatned to be made that day, by Mr. Collier and others of his party, who, with the greatest strength the west would afford them, were present at the sermon. Before it there is an epistle and preface shewing the manner, and a narrative, subjoyned, shewing the substance of the dispute after the sermon ... set forth by the ministers that were at the dispute, and attested under their hands. Gamboa, Manuel de.
Apvntamiento breve de los hechos, y circvnstancias que han sobrevenido en el pleyto que està siguiendo don Francisco Tamayo de Mendoza y Navarra, marquès de Villa-Hermosa, con el señor fiscal del supremo Consejo de las Indias. Sobre que corran las mercedes que ajustò d. Diego Tamayo y Mendoza, hermano del marquès, con Su Magestad el año passado de 1680. por la cession que hizo à favor de la real corona del derecho de sacar 107 ½ 500. jornales, cargas de metal de azogue, en la mina rica descubridora de Guancabelica, ù otras equivalentes. Y proqve este pleito esta para verse en jvsticia y con los señores ministros associados del real consejo de Castilla, y que ha tenido diversas instancias en govierno, y consistir toda la substancia de èl en el mero hecho de los lances, que se han seguido los vnos à los otros desde el origen del descubrimiento de la descubridora, y recopilarlos todos el señor doctor don Manuel de Gamboa, siendo fiscal, en la respuesta que diò en govierno en 9. de enero de 1704. con toda puntualidad literalmente, le ha parecido al marquès darla à la estampa, para que sirva de informe à los señores ministros, y de norte, y guia de la clara justicia que le assiste, sin otro aditamento, porque lo que excediesse serviria de prolixidad, y de embarazo à la mejor inteligencia. ¡n. p., 17—¡

"An extravagant romance, yet founded upon facts. Numbers and distances are magnified; and everything embellished with great boldness. His history is not without its value, but must be consulted with extreme caution."—Bancroft, Hist. of U. S., ed. 1884, v. 1, p. 66.
"Written, forty years after Soto's death, professedly to do his memory justice. The spirit of exaggeration which prevails throughout the volume has deprived it of esteem as an historical authority?... It is based upon conversations with a noble Spaniard who had accompanied Soto as a volunteer and upon the written but illiterate reports reports of two common soldiers—Alonzo de Carmona, of Priego, and Juan Coles, of Zebra."—Winsor, Nar. & crit. hist., v. 2, p. 230.
